Learning Crisis

Every child on the planet deserves access to an equitable and quality education.

Yet 250 million kids around the world still leave school without critical reading, writing & math skills.

If current trends continue, by 2030 more than 750 million young people will not be on track to acquire basic secondary level skills. A global teacher shortage, estimated to reach 69 million by 2030, makes this learning crisis even more pressing. Without action, more than a quarter of the population in low-income countries — more than 1.5 billion adults — could be living in extreme poverty in 2050. Underserved and rural areas are the hardest hit.

TeachUNITED is determined to change that.

Who We Are

TeachUNITED is a global non-profit dedicated to reducing poverty and inequality through education. We focus on underserved communities where educational disparities are most acute. We partner with schools in Tanzania, Costa Rica, and the United States.

Education transforms the local communities we serve. It also provides tangible solutions to some of the world's most persistent challenges, including poverty, climate change, and health and gender inequality.

By investing in education, we empower teachers and students to incubate long-term solutions to these challenges.

The TeachUNITED team has deep-rooted educational experience, allowing us to effectively transform schools across cultures. As a data-driven organization, we rigorously measure the impact and effectiveness of our program.

Most importantly, our work is truly led by the local communities we serve, ensuring that they define success on their own terms.

What We Do

At TeachUNITED, our core belief is that a quality education is possible when students are taught by quality teachers.

By providing training, resources, and long-term connections for teachers in underserved communities, we improve student learning outcomes.

Training: Through supportive side-by-side and virtual coaching, skill-building toolkits, and innovative workshops, teachers learn how to create engaging, student-centered classrooms.

Resources: Our tablet labs offer schools mobile, off-the-grid access to digital content that amplifies great teaching.

Long-Term Connections: Because teachers in underserved communities are often isolated, we connect them with cohorts of other teachers, allowing for collaboration and ongoing peer support across geographic boundaries.

Our Impact

By the end of 2019, 17,000+ children across three countries will be impacted. Our students and teachers categorically outperform their peers.

TeachUNITED students report double-digit increases in 21st-Century skills.

Girls in Tanzania showed a 2x increase in promotion rates.

Students showed a 115% growth across all subject areas in US programs after just one year.

TeachUNITED's work is only possible through strong local partnerships. We collaborate with teachers, students, schools, universities, and local government entities to deliver our replicable and sustainable model.

Our Vision

TeachUNITED's focused efforts on quality education in underserved communities has the potential to transform the world as a whole. The model has positively impacted kids in vastly different communities on three continents and has the potential to scale and shift the quality of education for any teacher, any school, anywhere.

“After working with TeachUNITED, teachers talk less. They are free from chalk dust. The lesson is more interesting and engaging for both teachers and students.”
